RACING SEASON IS IN FULL SWING AT HOME TRACK

Festive And Colorful Throng Sees Beginning of Fall Term At Tanforan

THEY'RE OFF!

The fall season of 25 days of racing started off with a bang at Tanforan yesterday afternoon.

Class is the outstanding feature of both horses and jockeys for the present meeting at the home course.

Some of the best thoroughbreds that have been engaged at the larger tracks of the country are here and all seem to be in fine fettle for the many attractive events which have been arranged.

All in all, everything points to the most successful season for the galloping thoroughbreds ever to be held here.

Racing Secretary Julius Reeder has arranged a fine supporting card with the Bayshore Handicap, a mile event, embracing such performers as Slapped, Wacoche, Chatuga, Lookabout, High Image and other good ones.

A number of added conveniences and accomodations, a racing strip that has all horsemen singing its praises, and a new spirit all augur for the best meeting that northern California has ever had, and the forecast being made is that the daily handle will exceed $200,000.

This meeting will consist of 25 days of racing, with five days action each week, Sundays and Mondays seeing no running.

COLMA BAD BOY AGAIN FINDS SELF IN TOILS OF LAW

Said To Have Been One Of Gang Of Four Hold Ups In Highway Robbery

A swift raid on the Lagomarsino home at 235 Irvington street, on Monday night of this week, brought into custody two criminals, Ray Lagomarsino and James Bacciocco, who have past "records." The pair was suspected of several major local holdups. Clues unearthed through these crimes led county and city authorities to their hideout.

Ray Lagomarsino, known as the Colma "bad boy," who won noteriety as the first and only prisoner to gain freedom from Uncle Sam's Devil's Island, Alcatraz, was positively identified Tuesday as the "triggerman" in the daring holdup of the swanky Out of Town Club, near South San Francisco, a week ago last Saturday.

Arrest of Lagomarsino and Bacciocco, 29, Daly City coal man, suspected as the "get away man" in the crime series, has solved the Out of Town Club job, two stickups in

RACING AT TANFORAN BIG HELP TO STATE

By J. W. MARCHBANK

When Joseph Cairn Simpson brought Marion from Ohio to California in the old days she was sent, season after season, to the court of Norfolk with the nick proving to be one of the best in blood horse history. Marion was exactly ten years younger than Norfolk. Simpson was a noted writer and had an intimate knowledge of the pedigrees. For years he was a familiar figure in the neighborhood of Adeline street and San Pablo avenue in Oakland, not far from the old race track, later to be the site of the Emeryville course.

Simpson undoubtedly told Theodore Winters, the owner of the Winters stallion, Norfolk—which had been purchased for $15,001 from his breeder, Robert Alexander—that the mating of Marion and the Lexington horse ("the best son of Lexington" he was often called) would be extremely worth while. The blood line expert was altogether right.

The unions of Norfolk and Marion resulted in eleven foals—Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rey, Czar and other noted performers. As a writer in the Thoroughbred Record recently said, the most famous partnership was that of old Norfolk and the great brood mare Marion.

In the club house at my Tanforan is a painting of "old" Norfolk, and it is easy to see from his conformation why he was an undefeated racer and a great progenitor.

Norfolk was from Novice, a daughter of imported Glencoe. Marion, by the imported Bonnie Scotland horse Malcolm, was from Maggie Mitchell, a grand daughter of the same Glencoe. A return to such a strain had its appeal to both Simpson and Winters. I know something about Glencoe, as before leaving England the stallion had become the sire of the immortal Pocahontas and Antrim, dam of my successful sire, King Heather, descends through a line of producing mares from Pocahontas.

It has been my endeavor to conduct race meetings to encourage the breeding of the highest type of thoroughbred. More men of affairs are going into both breeding and racing as the days pass and the present meeting at Tanforan is carrying on in accordance with the best traditions of that historic plant.

GEORGE WHITE'S 'SCANDALS' WILL PLAY AT CURRAN

Twelfth Edition of Famous Revue Booked For San Francisco For Limited Engagement

With the critical acclaim of New York, Chicago, Washington, Boston and Philadelphia play reviewers and theatergoers behind him, George White will personally present his newest edition of the stage "Scandals," twelfth in the notable series, at the Curran Theater, for a limited engagement beginning Sunday evening, October 11.

In order to give all theatergoers an opportunity to see the new "Scandals," Producer White has arranged a popular scale of prices.

Playgoers are urged to buy their seats well in advance to get choice locations.

Not since he startled Broadway into a burst of feverish enthusiasm over the initial "Scandals," has George White assmbled a cast and production so worthy of his managerial reputation as in his forthcoming extravaganza which he has peopled with a galaxy of stage and screen stars for what he believes to be his peak musical revue.

"The new 'Scandals'," states Producer White, "has been a year in the making. Dozens of sketches, dozens of production ideas and dozens of songs have been written and rewritten before each individual item in the program was finally accepted as worthy of the newer and greater 'Scandals' I have been assiduously laboring to produce. An instance in point is my chorus ensemble, always noted for its rare beauties. Having set a high mark with my gorgeous dancing girls in the past, I determined to outdo myself on this occasion and interviewed upwards of 5,000 beauties before I selected the 75 who now comprise my 'Scandals' chorus.

"It is an honor, indeed," concludes Mr. White, "to bring 'Scandals' to San Francisco, for I am assured of enthusiastic reaction on the part of theater lovers who appreciate the living theater at its glorified best."

The new "Scandals" is in two acts and 35 scenes and boasts a cast of more than 100. The uproariously amusing Willie and Eugene Howard, and the ever-delightful Helen Morgan head the brilliant array of stars gathered by Mr. White for the new "Scandals." Others in the cast of more than 100 include Earl Oxford, George Dewey Washington, Stanley Twins, Sam, Ted and Ray, Richard Lane, Estelle Jayne, Gloria Rich and Fred Manatt.

Opportunity For Young Ball Players

Big League Farm Club To Hold Camps Over Entire Pacific Coast

The Durham Club, of the Class B Piedmont League, a farm team which is owned and operated by the Cincinnati Reds of the National League, is to offer an opportunity on an unparalleled scale for young players to break into baseball. It is holding free-tuition camps or schools which give boys over nearly a 3,000 mile front a chance for instruction in baseball, with a contract for those who demonstrate sufficient skill. From the state of Washington to the far southwest, boys of ability, between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one, are invited to attend the nearest camp to their homes of the following:

Fresno, California, October 14 to October 20.

San Bernardino, California, October 22 to October 28.

Phoenix, Arizona, November 1 to November 7.

The Cincinnati Club is generally recognized as one of the rapidly improving organizations in the National League. After a long period in the cellar under previous ownership, the Reds began, under Powell Crosley, the new owner, and Larry MacPhail, general manager, an upward climb in fortunes, based in part on the development of young players. In line with this program, a camp for young players was inaugurated at Stockton in the fall of 1934, with a spring camp at the same place early in 1935. In the fall and spring of 1935-1936, camps were held at both Stockton and San Bernardino. More than 60 ball players were given jobs in baseball as a result of these camps.

A number of famous players will be present as instructors at the camp. Topping them all is Bobby Wallace, for 21 years a star in the majors. Wallace is generally considered, along with Hans Wagner, as one of the two greatest shortstops in the history of the game. George Kelly, home-run hitter of McGraw's Giants in their greatest years, and Tom Sheehan, former Athletics hurler, will also be present.

For further information those interested should write C. E. Chapman, box 768 Orinda, via Berkeley, Calif.

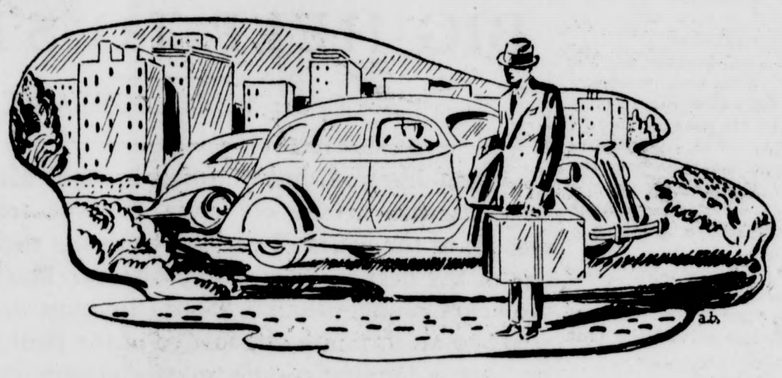
Were you ever alone in a strange city?



If you were you know the true value of this newspaper

Alone in a strange city. It is pretty dull. Even the newspapers don't seem to print the things that interest you. Headline stories are all right, but there is something lacking. That something is local news.

For—all good newspapers are edited especially for their local readers. News of your friends and neighbors is much more interesting than stories of far off places. That is why a newspaper in a strange city is so uninteresting. And that is why this newspaper is so important to you. This is Newspaper Week. It's a good time to get to...

NEW TAX LAW DISCRIMINATES

Diesel Tax Measure Aid To Trucks Is Declared By Auto Association

Evidence of the extent to which the Diesel tax provision of Proposition No. 10, so-called "Save The Gas Tax" initiative amendment, would benefit Diesel-operated trucks was cited in a statement recently by the California State Automobile Association. The motorists organization is opposing the amendment on the ground that the measure is actually designed to achieve other purposes than protection of gasoline tax money.

One of the provisions which the automobile association has declared to be a joker is a clause prohibiting the legislature from ever imposing any greater tax on Diesel motor fuel than the per gallon tax on gasoline. Diesel fuel is not now taxed and the legislature is scheduled to take up the subject at its coming session. Commenting upon the proposed Diesel tax limitation, the association statement said:

"Efforts have been made by proponents of Proposition No. 10 to minimize the significance of the Diesel tax restriction. Recent publications of the truck industry forecast a strong future growth of Diesel transportation. Some equitable method of taxation, whereby Diesel trucks will pay a fair proportionate share toward highway costs, must be worked out. This is evidenced by an actual example of the difference in fuel consumption as between Diesel fuel and gasoline, cited in a recent issue of a trade magazine.

"A company operating over the Redwood Highway between Eureka and San Francisco is operating a Diesel-powered truck where it formerly used gasoline. For the same weight and mileage it consumes 80 to 100 gallons of Diesel fuel for the 600 mile round trip, where it formerly used 250 gallons of gasoline. Formerly $7.50 in state gasoline taxes was paid on the fuel used. Now no tax is paid. If Proposition No. 10 is adopted, the most that this Diesel operator could be required to pay in fuel taxes for the trip would be $3.

"Proposition No. 10 would have the effect of tying the hands of the legislature in correcting this situation."

COLMA BAD BOY AGAIN FINDS SELF IN TOILS OF LAW

Colma and several Coastside safe burglaries, police allege.

As the result of the raid officers found a quantity of loot identified as merchandise stolen from Coastside resorts, the Lawndale Hotel and other unknown sources. The prisoners told conflicting stories of how they came into possession of the stuff, Undersheriff Nieri declared.

The Out of Town Club netted Lagomarsino, Bacciocco and two associates, Avelino and Schenck, $433. Lawndale Hotel and Bocci Ball Club jobs netted them $130. Stolen automobiles were used in each stickup.

Lagomarsino's career in crime dates back more than a decade, authorities said. In 1925 he was convicted of robbing the post office at Colma and sent to the federal prison.

Lagomarsino came off the "rock" at Alcatraz in 1935. He went "straight" for four months, working as a ship fitter at the General Engineering Company plant in Oakland.

Then he lost his job, became associated with old friends and again entered a career of crime, it is alleged by authorities.

The prisoners are in jail at Redwood City, awaiting preliminary hearing.

Mission Reserves Lose To Jefferson

Jefferson won its first football game of the season Wednesday, when it beat the Mission High Reserves, 12-0.

Jefferson scored early in the first quarter as a result of a long pass and several line plunges by Bob Maroni and John Verducci. Jefferson had a first down on the Mission seventeen yard line. Rodriquez then scored for the home boys on a quarterback sneak.

Jefferson again scored in the fourth quarter after recovering a fumbled punt on the thirteen yard line. Verducci ran it to the three yard line on the next play. Maroni then plunged over for the touchdown.

Mission showed very little offense. Their plays were being continually stopped by the fine tackling of the Jefferson backfield.

Monday, October 12, Jefferson Reserves will play against Balboa Reserves.

THE ROOSEVELT ELECTORS

Much has been written and said concerning the organization known as the National Council of Roosevelt Electors. Its purpose, however, has been sadly neglected in the public prints other than it was formed to help raise the national campaign fund for the re-election of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In these days of political strife and claims of rival candidates we hear considerable of contributions to the major party campaigns. What is often forgotten in these announcements is the fact that city, county and state organizations receive the bulk of funds donated by private citizens to aid what they believe to be a just cause. To the Democratic National Committee usually go the crumbs which fall from the political table, sometimes not even those.

It was with this thought in mind that the Council of Roosevelt Electors was founded, believing that through it individuals who appreciated the courageous accomplishments of President Roosevelt could do their bit to keep him in the White House. Throughout the nation, state, county and local chairmen have been appointed to perfect the organization of the Roosevelt Electors.

Their work is simple enough, although the effort must be great. Every man and woman interested in seeing the President re-elected next month will be asked to do his or her bit. Their contributions, as a whole, will be small, but they nevertheless will be representative of the voters who well realize national campaigns have legitimate expenses.

It is not a call to the colors for the DuPonts and the Rockefellers, but rather presents itself as an opportunity for the little fellows whom Roosevelt has helped to show their appreciation.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL WHAT WILL BE NEXT

The Grand Rapids Press says: According to a recent news story, hail as large as coconuts fell a short time ago in Africa. Nothing like this ever happened in Africa until American newspapers started sending correspondents over to that country.

PEOPLE GIVE "CHIEF" SUPPORT EVERYWHERE

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

The latest expert opinion with the presidential election less than four weeks away is just this:

Obviously the President is letting recovery speak for him—and recovery has a golden tongue.

On the reverse side of the picture, if we try hard to decipher the faint lettering, we can see this:

Landon is not what he was cracked up to be.

With the President getting stronger every second and his opponent weaker, it is not difficult to forecast the result of the contest—Franklin Roosevelt is going to be our executive for another four years, thus being given time to complete the work he has so valiantly begun, that of

RECOVERY.

* * *

Rising profits have sent the Republicans into disorder; they have lost their principal source of ammunition, that of a country in the throes of despair such as it was when Herbert Hoover went out of power.

* * *

What is all this talk about President Roosevelt ruining business? Not a thing to it. Listen to the wise words of the New York Times, usually considered the country's leading newspaper.

"Business interests appear indifferent to the outcome of the election. Some signs of pre-election hesitation should be discernible at this time, but after passing through a summer when there was not the usual slackening it now seems that even a national campaign will have little effect upon the upward surge of business."

* * *

President Roosevelt places his country's welfare first, his own selfish interests second. That is the attitude of the true patriot and one that will save us from falling into the errors that have afflicted Europe with so many dictatorships.

* * *

With the world series on it was right and proper that the President should use baseball terms in a recent speech about our national problems. Some of his epochal words follow:

"I am convinced that when government finance or any other finance is honest—and when all the cards are on the table—there are no higher mathematics about it. It is plain, scoreboard arithmetic.

"When the present management of your team took charge, the national scoreboard looked pretty bad. In fact, it looked so much a shut-out that you voted a change of management in order to give the country a chance to win the game. And today we are winning it.

"When the new management came to Washington we began to make our plans—plans to meet the immediate crisis—and plans that would carry the people of the country back to decent prosperity.

"We saw the millions out of work, the business concerns running in the red, the banks closing. Our national income had declined over 50 per cent—and, what was worse, it showed no prospect of recuperating by itself.

"By national income I mean the total of all income of all the 125,000,000 people in this country—the total of all the pay envelopes, all the farm sales, all the profits of all the businesses, of all the individuals and corporations in Americ..."

We follow with tense interest as the President skillfully develops the thought of the coming of RECOVERY. He is a remarkably clear thinker and as we know so well from hearing him on the radio has a sincere, as well as a pleasing manner of presenting them.

In the present crisis there is only one thing to do—the logical thing—send the President back to the White House for four more years.

Typewriter Adjusted To Even Margin On Right

How to make a typewriter produce an even margin on the right-hand side of the sheet has puzzled inventors for years. But according to the Associated Press, a young Russian immigrant at Stanford University has solved the problem.

By flipping a small lever on the side of his machine, Sergei M. Toman now turns out neat columns of typewritten copy resembling a newspaper or magazine. Gone are the irregular line endings.

How far the spacer will get in America's vast volume of business correspondence, will depend on how much importance business men attach to having their letter look like a printed page.

The fundamental is simple, as Toman explains it. It involves making two copies, the first of which is made on graph paper to show at a glance how much each line must be spaced out to reach uniform width. For recopying, an indicator is set at a number from one to seven, according to the number of extra spaces needed. The spacer does the rest, evenly distributing the excess space through the entire line.

PRODUCTION FOR DISTRICT FIELD HAS INCREASED

Seasonal Advancement Found To Be Larger Than In Past Few Years

Industrial production in the Twelfth District increased more than seasonally in August. Value of building permits expanded further, but contracts awarded for engineering construction, which fluctuate widely from month to month, declined. Most measures of trade were lower than in July, after allowance for seasonal influences. Industrial employment and pay rolls in California increased less than is customary in August. In Oregon, employment advanced more than seasonally, but pay rolls failed to expand correspondingly.

Operations in the important lumber industry expanded by about the customary amount and, judging from preliminary pack statistics, changes in activity at fruit and vegetable canneries conformed to seasonal expectations. In most other industries for which data are available, such as the steel, glass container, furniture, sugar refining, crude oil, automobile tire, wooden box and electric power industries, output advanced or was better maintained than in August of most recent years. Value of building permits in twenty of the larger district cities amounted to $15,787,000 in August, the largest total in any month in recent years and 78 per cent larger than in August last year. Value of residential building permits was $6,621,000, compared with $6,152,000 in July.

GOOD LIGHT never was so cheap!

Reading music and reading books are much alike in their demands upon the eyes. Those wrong notes or passages that seem difficult may be due to insufficient light, rather than inattention. Practice becomes easier when eyes do not have to squint and foreheads wrinkle. Good light at the piano is as important as good light for reading or study. Insufficient or wrongly placed light is often the beginning of eyestrain. Good light makes all eye work easier and practice more enjoyable and more effective.

Science has now determined how much light we need to see easily and comfortably. It has also made a device, the Light Meter, which measures your lighting in a jiffy. You see for yourself the story of your lighting on a dial, as you read the story of temperature on a thermometer. How does your home lighting measure up? We will be glad to show you. There is no charge for this light testing service.

Would You Miss Your Home Newspaper?

A Brief Outline Of The Development Of News Distribution And Its Value To Mankind

"Four hostile newspapers are more to be feared than a thousand bayonets." These words were spoken by Napoleon more than a century ago. If the power of the press was accorded such an important place in the affairs of men so many years ago, how much more can be said of the newspapers of the present day! The modern newspaper finds room in its pages for humor, fashion, sports, health and hygiene, science, good housekeeping, the drama, literature, music, advice to the lovelorn, etc., besides columns of advertising and illustrations ranging from a person in some obscure walk of life suddenly appearing in the limelight to one of a great airplane starting forth on a long journey.

The world is the newspaper's field and its servants are the telephone, the telegraph, the cable, the radio, the camera, linotype, printing press, the railroad, motor car and the airplane, which all help to make "the daily miracle," as someone has aptly called the daily paper—the weekly might well be titled "the weekly miracle." In one newspaper there is enough reading matter to make up a book as large as a fair sized novel, and the paper is sold for the price of a few cents.

It is the ambition of every "cub" reporter to become a "star" reporter by bringing in such a choice and select piece of news that it will be accorded a prominent position of the front page.

It has been stated that the first requisite of success for any newspaper is circulation. This is quite true, but the greater part of a newspaper's income is derived from its advertising.

Much progress has been made in the development of printing equipment. A linotype machine sets the type into solid "slugs" with the words evenly spaced and one column in width. Some of the larger metropolitan papers have from fifty to more than a hundred of these machines in operation in their composing rooms. A battery of large presses of a daily newspaper can print and fold as many as 300,000 twelve page papers in an hour.

The first newspaper ever in circulation, the Daily Events, was published in ancient Rome as early as the year A. D. 476. The "Peking News" (Tsing-Pao) is a monthly publication founded in the sixth century. As early as the seventh century the "Peking Gazette" appeared, and both of these Chinese newspapers are flourishing today.

The first European newspaper was "The Frankfurter Journal," printed in German as long ago as 1615.

Some of the earliest newspapers in America started as early as 1690. The Connecticut Courier was the first paper of continuous circulation. At the outbreak of the Revolution thirty-four newspapers were in circulation in the Colonies. The Chicago Democrat was published weekly by John Calhoun when the population of Chicago numbered only 800. Later it was absorbed by the Chicago Daily Tribune, which is the second oldest newspaper in Illinois, the Daily Journal being the oldest, it having been established in 1844.

So the far reaching influence of the thousands and thousands of our newspapers goes on continuously. Many more improvements will be invented through the years, and what then! Who can say?

Would you miss your home newspaper?

THE VALUE OF CREDIT

The late Irving Thalberg once gave voice to this bit of wisdom: "If you're in a position to give yourself credit, you don't need it."

The man who brought to stardom such film celebrities as Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, Clark Gable and Jean Harlow never sought to aggrandize himself and omitted the usual "Produced by, etc.," after the announcement of the titles of the films he had directed.

He further elucidated: "Screen credit is valuable only when given you."

EUCLID'S REPLY

It is related that among the pupils of Euclid was Ptolemy Soter, who afterward became king of Egypt.

The Egyptian prince was provoked that one of his royal station should be required to work so hard in the study of mathematics and finally, in desperation, cried out: "Cannot the study of mathematics be made easier for me?"

Euclid regarded his pupil gravely, and then gave voice to a thought that has echoed down the ages: "There is no royal road to learning."

EXPERIENCED HOUSEWIFE CLUB

(By Maude Larue Ives)

"Housewives are becoming more and more
Creative cooks, who men adore."

We women folk are always looking for new ways of presenting food. We want to introduce dishes to our hungry families that are colorful and good to look at. Color combinations can best be caried out in desserts. Here is one brought in by Mrs. Anna Huhn, 2531 San Bruno avenue, San Francisco. Our new member is a nurse and the following is often prepared for invalids.

PERSIAN DELIGHT

Cut in halves a Persian melon and fill with strawberry or raspberry jello. Place in refrigerator until jello hardens. Cut in quarters and serve. The colors of the melon and the jello combined make a beautiful as well as a tasty dessert, and if served with cake makes a more elaborate finish to the meal.

APRICOT-FLUFF PIE

(From the Farmer's Wife)

One pound of dried apricots cooked with water enough to cover. When soft mash with a potato masher. After taking out one cupful for the pie the remainder of sauce may be placed in a glass container and stored in the ice box for future use. Beat and mix the yolks of three eggs with two tablespoons water and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly. When thick add one cup apricot pulp and beat with fork until thoroughly blended. Beat three egg whites stiff and stir in one-half cup sugar.

After combining the two mixtures, pour into a nine inch unbaked pastry shell. Bake about 30 minutes in a 400-degree oven.

Suggestions for Sunday night suppers or menus for any meals would be helpful. Sunday should be a day of relaxation for the housewife as well as the rest of the family. Here is a suggestion:

Scalloped asparagus, hot buttered toast, spiced peaches and lemon meringue pie.

SCALLOPED ASPARAGUS

Place eight halves of hard boiled eggs in bottom of baking dish and cover with two cups of fresh cooked or canned asparagus, cut in pieces. Add two cups well seasoned white sauce (enough to come to top of layers). Cover with buttered bread crumbs and place in 350-degree oven till crumbs are crisp and brown.

Your contributions to this column are always welcome. The address: Experienced Housewife Club, Daly City Record, 3317 San Jose avenue, Daly City.

Freedom's Call

(Tune: "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp")

Words by Alfred M. Currier Sr., 10 Bepler street.

Do you hear the call to right,
Sounding through the murky night,
Like a trumpet call for home and freedom's might.
Will you heed the call a-right,
Stand like comrades through the fight,
We can win and bring the tyrant to the light.

CHORUS:

Tramp! Tramp! Tramp! the boys and girls are marching,
Cheer up comrades they will come
And beneath the starry Flag,
We shall break the tyrant's grab—
For the New Deal and our own beloved homes.

Have you heard the wailing throng,
Smarting under Mammon's thong,
Was your loved ones sweetly smiling as of yore?
Then come join our anthem song,
Help redeem those woeful wrongs,
By your vote upheld in freedom's sacred lore.

All united we are one,
To the task that must be done—
While we choose our men of valor at the polls.
We can teach the tyrant well—
How to ring that good old bell,
Save our Uncle Sam from grounding on the shoals.

The Right Street

"Dick, dear, your office is in State street, isn't it?"

"Yes, why?"

"That's what I told papa. He made such a funny mistake about you yesterday. He said he'd been looking you up in Bradstreet."—Trumbull Cheer.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

In all Christian Science Churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, October 11, on the subpect "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

The Golden Text will be :"Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you" (James 4:7,8). Bible selection will include the following passage from II Corinthians 4: 8, 11: "We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; . . . For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "The evidence of the physical senses often reverses the real Science of being, and so creates a reign of discord, — assigning seeming power to sin, sickness, and death; but the great facts of Life, rightly understood, defeat this triad of errors, contradict their false witnesses, and reveal the kingdom of heaven,—the actual reign of harmony on earth" (p. 122).

A Lively Game Entitled 'Traveling, Staying At Home'

The players are seated in a circle. The leader, who is the first "traveler," announces, "I am going to The Hague." The next player must immediately follow this with a place, beginning with the last letter of the place mentioned by the preceding player thus, "I am going to 'Elmira'." The leader counts 10. The player who cannot name a city ("Altoona," in this instance) by the time the leader counts 10 is out.

Any player may challenge any other player who has named a city, as to what country or state it is in. If the player cannot name the location of the city, he is also out. As in a spelling match, the last one in, wins. A small globe is an appropriate prize.—Amy B., Brooklyn.

EXPOSED!

A New Scheme to Raise Prices by Taxation

You would pay for the cleverly-disguised "Retail Store License"... in higher prices for foods and other necessities of life.

DON'T be fooled by Proposition #22 on your November ballot.

By name, it is made to sound like a simple store license. Actually, the public, as usual, will bear the whole burden—through the higher prices you will pay.

The measure proposes this: Charge individual stores $1.00 a year for the right to do business. But tax chain stores $500.00 for each store, over nine.

The "joker" in such taxes is exposed by the U. S. Federal Trade Commission, which says:

"If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost, is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."

Why? Because chain stores operate on a small profit. They eliminate middlemen's profits and unnecessary in-between expenses. The savings they make are passed on to you in prices 10% below the average. The Harvard (University) Bureau of Business Research states these to be the facts.

Thus four out of five chain stores do not make enough profit to cover the tax. They must raise prices. And that means you will pay.

Some chains will be forced to close. Their competition gone, other stores will be free to boost their charges. And that means you will pay.

The tax is admittedly not for revenue purposes. It is a scheme to raise prices by taxation—to subsidize wasteful business methods at your expense.

If you agree that chain store competition helps to keep all prices reasonable—if you agree that taxes on foods and necessities are already high enough —vote NO and keep prices low.

For, stripped of its misleading name and its involved wording...22 is a tax on you—VOTE NO!

22 IS A TAX ON YOU—VOTE NO!

22	RETAIL STORE LICENSE Referendum against act of Legislature (Chapter 849, Statutes 1935) requiring every person or organization owning, operating or controlling one or more stores, wherein merchandise is sold at retail, obtain annual State license; prescribing fifty cents application fee for each store and one dollar license fee for one store, increasing license fee progressively for second and additional stores to five hundred dollars for each store over nine; excepts filling stations, ice distributing establishments, restaurant facilities of common carriers, newspaper offices, stores wherein sales are incidental to rendering personal service, theatres and motion picture houses. VET FIREMEN IN INTERESTING REGULAR MEET

Conduct Well Executed Drill And Decide To Participate In Fiesta

Veteran Firemens Association of Daly City held the regular meeting, Friday evening of last week, at 8 o'clock. Comrade Chairman Goldkuhl called the meeting to order.

After the usual run of business the committee on whist reported the annual whist would be held on Tuesday, November 24, at the Daly City Auditorium. Many prizes will be awarded.

Comrades Past President Hanson and Callan gave long talks on the San Mateo Fiesta of last year the coming Fiesta this year, after which the board of directors decided to participate in the San Mateo Fiesta.

Comrade Goldkuhl also spoke on the good and welfare of the association.

Comrade P. Valente, secretary of the County Firemens Association, and deputy for the State Firemens Association, was present at this meeting.

While sawing up a redwood tree near Sebastopol recently, J. A. Robertson and his son cut into an acorn nest sealed in the tree fifteen inches from the surface. RILEY STATES NEW PROPOSAL DISCRIMINATES

Tax Measure Scored By State Controller As Limiting Powers To Tax

"A typical special interest measure forming a threat to popular government," was the term applied in a statement today by State Controller Ray L. Riley to Proposition No. 10, the so-called "Save The Gas Tax" initiative measure on the November ballot. Riley's declaration accorded with the stand taken by the California State Automobile Association that the proposal is not a genuine anti-diversion measure but is really designed to give a tax advantage to Diesel-operated trucks. The motorists organization contends a major joker is a provision tying the hands of the legislature in levying a proper Diesel tax.

"Under the guise of dedicating money for highway use," Riley said, "this proposed amendment specifically limits the power of the legislature to tax a substantial group of highway users. This is undoubtedly the motivating interest that is sponsoring the amendment. The constant attempts by special interests to freeze legislation into the Constitution, thereby staying the hands of the people, is a vicious practice from the standpoint of public interest.

"The writing of legislative matters into the Constitution is objectionable because popular government depends upon the ability of members of the legislature to represent their constituents."

Broken Fan Belts

Remember that a broken fan belt in many a car means more than the menace of overheating.

The fan belt drives the generator too, on a large percentage of cars and if it is broken it means that the engine is being driven entirely by current taken from the battery. That is good for neither the battery nor the generator.

Morgan's Method

When a friend complained to J. P. Morgan that he had lent $10,000 to a person who had gone off to Europe without leaving any acknowledgement of the debt, the financier said: "Well, cable him and ask him to send you the $50,000 he owes you."

"But he owes me only $10,000," said the friend.

"Precisely," rejoined the financier. "He will cable back to tell you so. Thus you will get the acknowledgement of it."
